Orchestral Family Vol. 1 & 2

The Roland Sample Archives Orchestral Family Volume 1&2 discs represent the most comprehensive collection of traditional instruments and percussion ever assembled. Our goal in creating these discs is to make available all the instruments and techniques necessary for any type of orchestration. The Orchestral Family library set is an invaluable resource for film and television composers, pop and jazz arrangers, New Age musicians, orchestrators, copyists, educators, and anyone whose in search of their own "Orchestra". The Orchestral Family is the culmination of over eight years of sampling in studios, concert halls, and cathedrals all over the world and the contributions of hundreds of talented musicians, engineers, and sound designers. In addition to assembling the best material from the vaults of our sampling masters, we've included some of the best (and most complementary) sounds from such respected third party developers as McGill University, Northstar, Stratus Sounds, and Prosonus. In fact we had so much good material (1.2 Gigabytes!) we decided to release the Orchestral Family library on a two CD-ROM discs set for your convenience. Not only do they come fully programmed and ready to play, but you'll also find unprecedented detail in the variety of sounds included. Different string bowing techniques such as spiccato, marcato, jete, colegno, harmonics, ponticello, and arco are available for example. The actual dynamics(pp-ff) of an instrument were sampled whenever possible for use in velocity switching patches. This technique is much more realistic than conventional filter or amplitude tricks to create dynamics. Instruments are presented in solo and varying section sizes. In addition to attempting to capture the nuances of each instrument, we've included different versions (musicians or locations) of the instruments whenever possible. Often a choice of a close (dry) or ambient mic'ing version is accessible. In some cases you can even select between a vintage tube mic or a modern condenser!

"I love the Roland Orchestral Family... especially the sounds I contributed!" - Hans Zimmer

"These sounds have changed my life... musically that is." - Alex Wurman
